PERSONAL FRONTED DEVELOPMENT MASTERY PATH

- Project: Non-commercial projects done in a private time
- Responsibilities: To practice my skills, I implemented some projects that are available on my github account. They have live versions (links on github) so feel free to look through the code or see how it works. (work that I normally do is not publicly available). First two are from the time when I started working with React. Recent ones are based on web designs from frontendmentor.io, using ready designs allowed me to focus more on the implementation side of things.
